At Pullmantur Group, we've been navigating for 15 years with a spirit that differentiates us, that has taught us that the real destination is to enjoy the journey. This is the basis of our primary objective: to ensure that each of our passengers has an unforgettable experience full of memorable moments.

We offer a wide variety of itineraries to satisfy any passenger searching for an unforgettable holiday with the convenience of starting the day in a new city or port of call without having to pack and unpack their bags.

Our range of itineraries offers travellers the opportunity to discover the stunning landscapes and historic cities that border the seas of Northern Europe, or the glorious sunsets over the Mediterranean, the beauty of Rome, the glamour of Monaco, the magic of Sardinia, and the colours of the Caribbean Sea, its enchanting beaches and delightful people.

For the summer of 2017, in an effort to remain the Spanish market's leading cruise line and spread our customary spirit to others, we will add new itineraries in Europe, including the Greek Isles and the Croatian coast.

Our tours of the Adriatic and the Aegean, and the new itineraries of the Caribbean will leave an indelible impression on our passengers. One will gaze into the distance from the deck of the ship and say, "I never want to leave," and at the same time a stranger will respond, "I understand, neither do I."

Our fleet consists of 4 fully-equipped ships and the finest crew to provide each passenger with a personalised experience that includes all the comforts of home.

This year we're highlighting the Monarch cruise liner, whose 12 decks feature a variety of spaces where passengers will find everything they need on-board: bars, restaurants, shops, pools, Jacuzzis, a theatre, night club, climbing wall, basketball court, jogging track, and a spa.

Monarch also includes the Waves Yacht Club, a true oasis on the high seas designed for the most discerning passengers. All of this can be enjoyed while navigating the northern seas.

Welcome home.

TOWARD THE GREEK ISLANDS

onboard
the Horizon

From Spain to Greece, this special itinerary will precede the weeks during which Zenith will tour the Greek Isles. Special itineraries typically include two parts from the point of view of the route: i) enjoyment of the cruise while travelling from one region to another, and ii) upon reaching at your destination, the discovery of a city that you'll arrive at in a unique way, which adds a dash of fun.

On the "Toward the Greek Isles" cruise, you will have the opportunity to discover very distinct cities and places that share the hypnotic aroma of the Mediterranean. CARIBBEAN ISLANDS

7 nights, 6 ports

The mild temperatures of the Caribbean Sea are what motivated the Pullmantur Group to organise twelve uninterrupted cruises, from 23 December 2016 to 22 April 2017, in order to visit the fascinating Caribbean islands.

In addition, as we are aware of the spell cast by Caribbean waters on all those who navigate them, the Pullmantur Group offers you two different itineraries through the region. So once you finish one, the dream can continue.

Such adult person shall be carried free of charge on cruise-related passage services only.

11.3.2. Duty of passenger to communicate that he is a Person of Reduced Mobility when requesting a booking.

The passenger must inform the Organiser, when requesting the booking, of any physical or mental illnesses or disabilities which may require special assistance or care. A person with reduced mobility means any person whose mobility when travelling is reduced due to any physical disability (sensory or locomotor, permanent or temporary), intellectual disability or impairment, or any other cause of disability, or age, and whose situation needs appropriate attention and the adaption to his particular needs of the service made available to the other passengers.

11.4. Pregnant women

Because the ship is not equipped to care for pregnancies and deliveries, no bookings will be taken for passengers who will be 24 weeks into their pregnancy or beyond on the date on which the tour ends. At the time of embarkation, expectant passengers shall have to provide a medical certificate proving that the passenger and the baby are in good health, specifying the expected delivery date and that the passenger is medically fit to travel. Pregnant passengers shall have sole liability for proper fulfilment of the requirements established for their embarkation. For safety reasons, and specifically because there are no incubators designed for the carriage of new-born babies, and no devices necessary to provide them with assistance on board, no bookings will be taken for infants who are not six months old on the scheduled embarkation date.

11.5. Safety rules

The passenger must behave in a manner that does not compromise the safety, peace and enjoyment for other passengers, and conduct himself in accordance with reasonable standards of care and exercising prudent judgment and will observe the administrative and statutory provisions in relation to the package and, specifically, the conduct policy and drink consumption policy. The passenger shall not bring aboard the ship any merchandise, alcoholic beverages, live animals (except for recognised guide dogs for visually impaired persons), weapons, ammunition, explosives and flammable, toxic or hazardous substances without the Organiser's written consent. No use whatsoever may be made, either at embarkation or in the ship cabins, of any electrical heating device or appliance such as clothes irons, water heaters, electric tea kettles, pots or boilers, heaters, radiators and the like. No vehicle whatsoever may be brought aboard, irrespective of whether it is animal, human, electric or mechanically-drawn, except for those used by persons with any type of disability or impairment and to the extent essential to ensure their autonomy. Non-compliance shall result in the device found being seized by on-board personnel with no possibility of use until the end of the cruise, at which time they will be returned to their respective owners. The passenger shall be liable for damages and losses to the Organiser and the ship as a result of the Passenger's willful misconduct or negligent or wrongful conduct.

11.6. Passengers to return on time after stopovers

The cruise has itineraries including calls at different ports which may be visited. Whenever the passenger disembarks at a port on the itinerary booked, the passenger shall have to return to the ship in sufficient advance to the time and date of departure from the port and observing the directions given by the ship. If the passenger fails to arrive at the scheduled embarkation time after the stopover for reasons attributable to that passenger, he shall be liable for all the consequences arising from that failure.

11.7. Master's authority

The Master is by law and under International Treaties fully entitled, in any circumstances of need or danger and, in particular, where reasons of safety of the ship, passengers and/or the ship's crew so advise, to assist and tow other vessels, deviate from the scheduled route, call at any port, transfer passengers and luggage to another ship, refuse the embarkation of anyone whose health does not, in the view, allow them to go on the cruise, disembark during the cruise anyone whose health does not, in his view, allow them to continue on the cruise or, in general, anyone posing a safety hazard for the ship or the other passengers, and anyone engaging on board the ship in any business or other activity in breach of the company's policies regarding passenger behaviour on board and specifically the company's conduct policy delivered on board and available at the website. All passengers shall submit to the Master's discipline, in particular in regard to all navigation or safety matters on board the ship. In addition, and as provided for in section 3.3 of Regulation 19 of Chapter II of the SOLAS appendix, all passengers shall take part in such safety drills as the Master shall determine, in accordance with the applicable international laws. If any passenger refuses to take part in these drills without just cause, the Master may report that behaviour to the court or police authorities at the next port of call, in order for appropriate action to be taken.

The passenger agrees at all times to abide by the orders and directions of the Master of the ship, the ship's personnel and the different authorities of the countries to be visited. The refusal to abide by these orders or directions may result in immediate termination of the package, in which case the passenger shall bear any cost arising from that breach.

11.8. Ship's Doctor

The ship has a qualified doctor on board in case the passenger wishes or needs to request medical assistance during the cruise. It shall be the passenger's decision to request the services of the ship's doctor and the cost of any appointments shall be paid by the passenger. The ship's doctor is not a specialist and the ship's medical centre is not required to be and is not equipped to the same standards as a land-based hospital. The ship's medical centre is not designed to provide extensive or continuing medical treatment. The ship carries medical supplies and equipment as required by the laws of the ship's flag state. Customary charges will apply for services provided by the medical centre, including the cost of medicines dispensed by the ship's medical centre. In the event of illness or injury of any passenger, the passenger may be landed ashore to receive medical treatment.

11.9. Membership of CLIA (Cruise Lines International Association)

Pullmantur Cruises, as a member of the Cruise Lines International Association (CLIA), has signed the International Cruise Lines' Passenger Bill of Rights, which is posted at our website pullmantur.es and at the CLIA's website.

12. INFORMATION THAT THE RETAIL AGENT MUST PROVIDE TO THE CONSUMER

The Consumer is advised that when the booking is confirmed he should receive from the Retail agency advice as to the optional conclusion of insurance covering the cost of cancellation and/or assistance insurance covering the cost of repatriation in the event of accident, illness or death, and information on likely risks having regard to destination and the package booked. Caribbean destinations may be impacted by hurricanes at certain times of the year, and the Retail agent must inform you about this.

13. PASSPORTS, VISAS AND DOCUMENTS

13.1. The Retail agency shall provide information on the health formalities required for the journey and the stay, and on passport and visa requirements applicable to European Union citizens and shall be liable for the accuracy of the information provided.

13.2. The Consumer shall obtain all necessary documents for the package, including passport and visas and in relation to health formalities. The Consumer shall be liable for all damages arising from the absence of any such documents and, in particular, the cost of interrupting the package and repatriation in due course.

13.3. If the Retail agent accepts instructions from the Consumer to process the visas required for any of the destinations on the itinerary, the agent may ask to be paid the cost of the visa and handling expenses for any procedures at the relevant diplomatic or consular office.

In that event, the Retail agency shall be liable for any damages attributable to the agency based on reasonable standard of care arising from any delays in obtaining the necessary documents or from missing or incomplete documents.

13.4. Persons aged under 18, or who are minors under the laws of the relevant country, who travel without their parents or without any other person, shall also carry a written permission from their parents or guardians attaching a copy of their credentials, or of the relevant body, in expectation of a name being requested by any authority, which shall also include the necessary information to contact the parents in an emergency.

14. LUGGAGE AND INSURANCE

Passengers have a luggage allowance of 30 kg on board free of charge. Any excess luggage shall be charged at the standard price of luggage, but the carrier shall however be entitled to limit the weight of that excess luggage. It is established that the aggregate value of the passenger's luggage under the passage ticket covering luggage and stay, contents and personal belongings, is limited insofar as the carrier's liability is concerned, to the amounts set out in the summary of Regulation 392/2009, which includes the limits of liability for loss of or damage to luggage. The carrier shall be liable, subject to limits provided for by the applicable laws and detailed in the summary of Regulation 392/2009, which includes the limits of liability for loss of or damage to luggage for cabin luggage for the period of time during which that luggage is on board, or in the course of embarkation or disembarkation, and the period during which the passenger and his cabin luggage are transported by water from land to the ship or vice-versa, if the cost of such auxiliary transport is included in the passage fare or if the vessel used for this purpose has been put at the disposal of the passenger by the carrier. The carrier will also be liable for cabin luggage, subject to the limits described in the summary of the aforementioned regulation, when the passenger is in a marine terminal or station or on a quay or other port installation, if that luggage has been taken over by the carrier, its employees or agents and has not been delivered to the passenger. With regard to other luggage that is not cabin luggage, the carrier shall be liable for such luggage for the period from the time of its taking over by the carrier, its employee or agent on shore or on board until the time of its re-delivery by them to the passenger. All of this shall be subject to the limits established by the applicable laws and set down in the section of the summary of Regulation 392/2009 which includes the limits of liability for loss of or damage to luggage. Passengers perceiving a loss of or any damage to their luggage in the course of embarkation or disembarkation shall immediately give the carrier notice in writing by submitting the relevant claim. The passenger shall be presumed to have received the luggage undamaged within 15 days from the date of disembarkation. The Consumer may, optionally within the package, benefit from a policy with an Insurer whereby the latter shall agree to indemnify the insured once only and up to the policy amount having regard to the travel destination, covering robbery involving violence or intimidation or forcible entry, in respect of the Consumers' luggage, as well as loss and theft, where that is established by means of a report to the competent authorities, or damages to the same as a result of any accident whatsoever or fire occurring in or to the means of carriage. In case of robbery, loss or theft of or damages to the luggage in the circumstances described above, the client agrees to notify the same, within not more than 15 days, directly to the Insurer's head office, enclosing a document proving that a report was lodged with the competent authority or proving the occurrence, as the case may be, together with a valuation of the stolen or damaged items. That deadline shall start to be counted from the day on which the client's package ends. For more information, go to the website www.pullmantur.es.
